The Chief Medical Officer provided new advice around self-isolation on 16 March 2020 and Public Health England have updated their web pages so please review the updated information online <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/covid-19-stay-at-home-guidance>

The advice remains that you should self-isolate at home for seven days if you have a recent onset of:

- A new continuous cough and/or
- High temperature

However, in addition, anyone living with someone who is self-isolating should now stay at home for at least 14 days to avoid spreading the infection outside of the home.
